

COURT DECIDES 'T WAS GAMBLING

Will Pass Sentence Upon Three
Poker Players Today—Japanese
Good Witness.

DETECTIVE IS INNOCENT

YOUTHFUL BURGLARS WILL PLEAD TODAY.

At the conclusion of a lengthy trial yesterday Judge Diehl of the police court found W. H. Bare, N. P. H. Yoist and Ed. Blackwell guilty of gambling and will pass sentence on the trio at 2 o'clock today. Bail was fixed in the sum of $300 in each case. T. Ito, a Jap, caught sitting in the game, with these men and others when Room 207 D. F. Walker building was raided by Officers M. Rhoades and E. Wheeling a week ago, will be tried today. It was the star witness. He said at first he could not speak nor understand the English language but when questioned by the court he showed enough knowledge of this tongue to admit that he had purchased $5 worth of chips and lost $25. To save time an interpreter was called and it identified Bare, Yoist and Blackwell as the men who had sat in the game with him. He pointed W. E. Holden out as the man who had conducted the game selling the chips and receiving the money for them. Blackwell confessed on the stand that he was a booster for the game, but termed himself a porter. He said his chips had no value and if he had won $1,000 he would have received none of it. Detective Matt Rhoades was unable to throw any light on the case by his testimony, asserting that he could not swear positively that he saw any one make a bet and admitting that he does not understand poker, being unable to tell the difference between "draw" and "stud." Attorney Ben. Johnson represented the defendants.

Holden Is Tried.

The case of Salt Lake City vs. W. E. Holden, charged with keeping a gambling house, occupied the court's time until after four o'clock. Attorney Johnson who represented the defendant asserted that the laws of the municipal corporation did not rule that a man dealing or conducting a game can be called the proprietor or owner of the game. The testimony elicited from Ito, who was used as witness, proved that Holden was conducting the game. Ito swore on the stand that he had purchased $5 worth of chips from Holden and received $1.75 for the chips remaining in his possession. At the conclusion of City Attorney Daly's and Attorney B. Johnson's arguments court adjourned until this morning.

Burglars Are Boys.

Before taking the gambling case up Judge Diehl placed the bail of Harry Clark and Harry Cook, arrested by Detectives R. Shannon and H. Wilson Sunday night, at $100 each. Clark, who says he is 19 years old and Cook 17 years old, are charged with burglary. When caught both men had wearing apparel in their possession identified as stuff stolen from S. H. Williams' room in the Sunlight hotel from rooms in the St. Nicholas hotel Saturday night. The boys will plead today at 2 o'clock.

WILL SEND DELEGATES.

Boys' Department of Y. M. C. A. to Be Represented at Geneva.

The boys department of the Y. M. C. A. is going to send two representatives to the boys' conference that will meet at Lake Geneva, Wis., on Aug. 1. This is the second time the conference has met. F. G. Lucas, the secretary of the boys' division, who attended it last year, said that the work it accomplished was exceedingly beneficial to the boys. The conference lasts a week and 300 boys from all parts of the United States will attend.

The boys at the Y. M. C. A. have adopted a unique plan to raise a fund to send the boys, which will require about $108. They have a large poster which hangs on a wall of their room, and it is divided into a number of squares. The squares number several hundred and are marked with figures indicating amounts from 5 cents to $5. When a boy contributes any money squares are marked off with red ink for the amount given, and his name is written in them. The plan has met with great success and nearly half the money needed has already been received. After the entire sum has been raised a meeting will be called of all those who have given money, and they will elect two representatives to attend the conference.

Constantly adding to your savings account, even if the amount is small, will, with our 4 per cent compound interest, make a respectable bank account, in a short time. What others have done, you can do. The average savings account in the United States is $400.

BARTCH AFTER FEDERAL JOB

Hopes to Be Appointed District
Attorney if Hiram E.
Booth Falls Down.

HE GOES TO WASHINGTON

WAS ON BENCH WHEN BOOTH HAD HIS TROUBLE.

Chief Justice George Washington Bartch of the supreme court of Utah has packed his carpetbag and turned his face toward the nation's capital. He is once more playing the role which he has played throughout his life with signal success—that of seeking an office—and politicians fear that, with the luck which has followed him all his days, he will receive a recess appointment as United States district attorney, which is the object of his quest. If he gets it, it will be due to lack of the cards are certainly stacked against him politically. There is apparently little prospect, however, that Hiram E. Booth will be confirmed for the office at the present session of the United States senate, and it is said Judge Bartch figures that he may get a recess appointment, to be followed by a regular appointment when congress meets next December. Then, indeed, would he resign from the supreme bench.

Serving His Last Term.

Several times of late Judge Bartch has solemnly assured his friends of his belief that were he to consent to accept a renomination for his present position at the hands of the Republican party, neither the Democrats nor the "Americans" would nominate a candidate against him and he would be re-elected unanimously. Parenthetically, it should be stated, this is not a joke; Judge Bartch has really said it to several people.

But that the judge really doubts his own assurance of his unbounded popularity with the people of Utah is shown by his ambition to be district attorney, a position less lucrative and with a shorter term than justice of the supreme court. He has heard ominous rumblings that the Republican party intends to select another to fill the place he now adorns, and he yearns for assurance that he will connect with another salary when his present one ceases by limitation.

Can do Booth Harm.

Judge Bartch is in a position to do Mr. Booth considerable harm in Washington if he be so minded. He was on the supreme bench of the territory when Booth was "canned" as a justice commissioner. He is said to possess an extremely lively recollection of the incidents connected with that "canning," and were he to whisper what he knows of it into the ear of some member of the senate judiciary committee, Mr. Booth's prospects would not be enhanced thereby. For in Washington the judge is Chief Justice George W. Bartch of the supreme court of Utah, with a long record of service behind him, and it is to be surmised that he would cut considerable more of a swath there than he would at home, where familiarity has prevented undue reverence.

Doesn't Like Smoot.

And Judge Bartch it is understood is willing to put a spoke in the wheel of Reed Smoot, irrespective of any ambition which he may entertain himself. Aforetime Judge Bartch was on good terms with Senator Smoot, so much so that Charles Mostyn Owen insulted the judge by referring to Judge Bartch as a "Jack-Monkey" in his testimony before the Smoot committee. But all that is changed, and Judge Bartch has come to see grave defects in Senator Smoot, which he thinks ought to be corrected. It was called that prior to the assembling of the last legislature Judge Bartch was a candidate—his own candidate—for United States senator. Senator Smoot, in his campaign, stacked the deck for George Sutherland, and it trickled through the adamant wall of Judge Bartch's understanding even before the caucus that he was out of the running. So he withdrew. But he has laid up that senatorial blighting shot that Smoot is sure to find in turning down the latter's candidate for district attorney.

Had Powerful Friends Once.

Were it ten years ago, politicians would fear the result of Judge Bartch's visit to Washington more than they do; for the judge once had powerful friends among those who in days gone by shaped the destinies of the nation and dispensed juicy feds—all jobs. The late Matthew Stanley Quay, boss of all the Pennsylvanias, was his friend and patron, and cherished among Judge Bartch's archives as the chief treasures of his public career are personal letters from William McKinley, breathing a spirit of friendship and regard. But Quay and McKinley have gone and Teddy the Terrible reigns in their stead. Teddy sees nothing in Utah but Reed Smoot. It is a ten to one shot that Smoot will snuff out any district attorneyship aspirations which Judge Bartch may possess like unto the snuffing out of a tallow dip, and that Judge Bartch, notwithstanding that he has had better luck than a "coon" with a rabbit's foot for several years, will come home as empty handed as he went.

Business Is Delayed.

The supreme court has handed down very few opinions rendered in cases argued at the May term, and none can be handed down during Judge Bartch's absence. Lawyers and litigants who must needs wait, regret exceedingly his departure. It is said, also, that he has mining business to transact in New York and Boston, and that he will be gone three or four weeks.

TURNER A BAD ONE.

Denver, Colo., June 19.—George Turner, a negro, who was arrested today, is charged with the murder of Patrolman John Spellman, who was shot and killed last night by one of three negroes whom he attempted to arrest. Edward Carse, another negro, who is also under arrest, says that the shooting was done by Turner. Turner killed a man in Kansas City about eighteen months ago and was acquitted of murder on a plea of self-defense.

DEN HEYWOOD BLKED FOR $57

He Causes Arrest of an Erstwhile Guest on Charge of Fraud.

POSES AS MAN OF WEALTH

LANDLORD LENDS HIM MONEY AND EXTENDS HIM CREDIT.

Harry J. Lake, alias Crossley, was arrested in Kemmerer, Wyo., yesterday by Marshal M. S. Malin and is being held for Sheriff C. F. Emery. Lake is wanted here for defrauding Landlord B. R. Heywood of the Cullen hotel out of a $57 board bill.

When Lake came to Salt Lake about six weeks ago he brought a stylishly dressed young woman with him who, he claimed, was his sister. They registered at the Cullen as Harry J. Crossley and Doris Crossley. Lake represented himself as the son of a wealthy contractor and builder. He told Mr. Heywood that he came here with the purpose of building a roller skating rink, saying that his father built the big rink at Los Angeles.

Heywood Entertained Him.

Mr. Heywood became interested in his proposition, and playing the role of the ideal host, took him about the city in search of a suitable situation. Mr. Heywood secured a copy of the building ordinances to see what kind of a building would have to be constructed for such an amusement.

Lake wired at the expense of the hotel office to Los Angeles but the answers received in no way connected with a skating rink. Mr. Heywood grew suspicious. He set his clerk to work figuring out Lake's accounts, which consisted of board and room rent, a cash account advanced from the hotel office, a bill at the bar, a laundry bill and other incidental expenses. The total was $57. Lake was "wise" and advanced Mr. Heywood $50 to stay the board bill provision for a day or two.

He Skips the Town.

One morning last week Mr. Heywood looked about the hotel and saw Lake enter the dining room for breakfast. He sent a bellboy to Lake's room but it was vacant. The police were notified and the sister discovered that she was being watched.

The girl was talked to by Detective George Chase about her brother. She denied that she was his sister. At first she claimed she was married to Crossley but afterward denied that. Likewise the "sister" left the hotel and went to Ogden and wrote Mr. Heywood that if he would mail her account she would pay for it. During her absence a letter came from Soda Springs which was turned over to Sheriff Emery. It was from Crossley, who signed himself as Lake. The letter gave the officers information as to where Lake was going and he was trapped by Marshal Malin at Kemmerer.

Rides on Brakebeam.

In the letter which Lake wrote to the young woman he said: "I got off the train about 8 o'clock this morning and went to the hotel. It was cold and it was cold. I dropped into a hotel here and filled up on a breakfast better than old Ben Heywood ever served."

The letter also stated other things which gave the officers information about the "brother and sister." In the meantime, Lake and Crossley had been in the city and wrote a letter to Mr. Heywood asking him to mail her account in care of general delivery in Salt Lake and she would take it in care of her. Mr. Heywood rendered the account but the bill still remains unpaid.

Lake is about 25 years of age and Doris Crossley is 23. They are both well made and make a good appearance. He will be brought by longshoremen to Sheriff Axel Steele, who left last night for Kemmerer for him, armed with a warrant and requisition papers.

WILL TAKE SMALL BOY BAND

Juvenile Court Musical Organization
Will Furnish Music for the Elks at Denver.

The Elks will be accompanied on their trip to Denver by the Juvenile Court band, which is now thirty pieces strong and is industriously practicing new music for the occasion. The boys will be uniformed in purple and white and will undoubtedly be a feature. Those who have heard them play say that they are improving in a manner little short of marvelous. The Elks will carry with them all sorts of matter advertising the state of Utah and will lavishly distribute this. They will not confine their trip to Salt Lake, but will include the whole state. The list of reservations for the trip at the Elks' club is rapidly growing, and shows that the antlered bunch will be accompanied by very many leading citizens not of the herd.

CHANGE IN SUGAR EXPECTED

Nothing Heard From War at Coast for Some Time and Jobbers Are Beginning to Buy.

There has not been a move in the sugar war at the coast for two weeks, in fact since the last big reduction, and already a few of the dealers here are beginning to muster up courage enough to buy little beyond the mere keeping up of their stocks. In the main, however, the jobbers are content to await developments. A change one way or the other is expected by the end of this week. Some of the local men state that if anything an advance is to be expected. The opening of the canning season and other things will tend to this end.

FAIRBANKS IS COMING.

Vice President Promises to Attend
Boise Irrigation Congress.

Vice-President Fairbanks has formally accepted an invitation to attend the Fourth National Irrigation congress, to be held at Boise, Idaho, and will be among the distinguished guests of the Gem state on that occasion. In accepting the invitation the Vice-President wrote as follows: "I appreciate the cordiality of your invitation, and shall arrange to be with you. The subject of irrigation is one that has long engaged my interest. I am in thorough sympathy with every effort made to reclaim the arid and semi-arid lands for cultivation and settlement."

Think of a delightful vacation among the mountains or in the canyons with plenty of MOUNTS Pork & Beans and Pickles in the commissary.

OLD FOLKS WILL HAVE OUTING

Great Annual Picnic to Take Place at Ogden on June 26.

WEBER STAKE ENTERTAINS

THOSE WHO HAVE PASSED THE THREE SCORE AND TEN MARK.

The old folks of Salt Lake will have their day June 26. On that date all those who have passed the Psalmist's mark of three score and ten will celebrate their long tale of years in right royal fashion. They will be carried to Ogden free by the Denver & Rio Grande and lavishly entertained by the Weber stake there. Everything possible will be done for their comfort and to make the outing a pleasant one. The only qualification for participation in the outing is to have reached the required age. The invitation is extended to all residents of Salt Lake, irrespective of nationality, condition or color. No children are to be taken. These are barred for this day as are all under the age limit of 70. There is no room for others.

All attending are asked to bring their own forks, cups, spoons and plates owing to the difficulty of supplying these for such a great number as is expected. Any citizen who may wish to contribute to the outing are asked to leave their subscriptions with C. R. Savage, 12 and 14 Main street, Salt Lake.

Badges Are Necessary.

The old folks' committee of the Weber stake will look after the comfort of the aged excursionists at Ogden. Every guest will wear a badge indicating his or her age. Those between 70 and 80 should wear a red badge; those between 80 and 90 a blue badge; between 90 and 100 a white badge. The wearers of these badges will be entitled to ride free on the Utah Light & Railway company's cars in Salt Lake as well as on the cars of the Ogden Rapid Transit company at Ogden. Persons who are blind, crippled and who are 90 years old are entitled to have a helping companion, but these attendants must be of advanced age.

The ministers of different denominations and the bishops of wards can obtain tickets, on presentation of the list of names and ages of those entitled to ride, from W. H. Barton in the office of Bishop Preston, at 10 o'clock a. m. commencing tomorrow. No tickets for passage will be sold on the old folks' train.

The old folks' choir under the leadership of W. H. Foster, will be present and sing. The committee of arrangements is made up as follows: Bishop W. B. Preston, William H. Barton, George B. Margretts, C. R. Savage, John Kirkman, Andrew Jensen, Hyrum Groesbeck, B. F. Grant.

BOND SALE IS COMPLETED

Commissioners Put Finishing Touch on Deal Which Is Loss to County.

The county commissioners yesterday completed the deal whereby E. J. Rollins & Sons of Chicago, the third highest bidder, are to have the $30,000 worth of county refunding bonds. County Clerk J. U. Eldridge, jr., was the highest bidder, but he was notified that they are to be taken up August 1, and County Treasurer W. O. Carbis was notified that he was to have the bonds. The commissioners also directed that the certificates be for $1,000 each, which accompanied the Rollins bid be turned over to the county treasurer to apply for payment on the bonds. The law requires that the delivery of the new bonds and the cancellation of the old ones shall be done simultaneously. It is probable that the delivery of the bonds will be made here, and that there will be no junketing trip to Chicago by any county official for that purpose.

WINNAMUCK MILL STOPS

Ohio Copper Company Closes It Down
Till Smelter Catches Up With Ores.

(Special to The Herald.)
Bingham, June 19.—The Winnamuck mill, owned and operated by the Ohio Copper company, closed down today indefinitely. The reason given for the shut-down is the fact that the United States smelter is unable to handle all the ones shipped by the company, and it has been found necessary to hold the product in check until such a time as the smelter will be in a position to handle the mineral with great facility. As there is much zinc in the Ohio company's ore, it is necessary for the smelter to handle it separately. A number of men have been laid off by the shut-down but the shut-down will continue more than two weeks.

WAR THREATENS IN CHINATOWN

Follows Raid by Detectives on Gambling Joint Last Friday.

CHIN FEARS FOR HIS LIFE

FORMER MAYOR NOT POPULAR
AMONG HIS FELLOWS.

The Tongs feud has broken out again in Chinatown as the result of a raid made Friday night by Detectives Shannon and Wilson upon the Chinese gambling "joint" in the basement of 51 Plum alley. Threats were made, it is alleged, against the life of Chin Chan Chin, the former mayor of Chinatown, by Nin Hing, Yip Sing and Ung Lung, the proprietors, who accuse Chin of informing the police about their place. Chin Chan Chin belongs to the Chee Ung Tong association and has sworn out complaints against the Chinese proprietors who belong to the Tai Sing Tong association for threatening to kill him. These associations have clashed before and it is possible that attempts of violence will be made against Chin Chan Chin.

Chin Chan Chin returned from China about two years ago, and since that time he has dropped from favor among his countrymen. The Tai Sing Tong association is now in power among the Celestials here and other Chinamen have succeeded Chin in influence among the colony. When Chin landed at Port Townsend an attempt was made by Chinamen in Salt Lake to deport him. He was arrested and taken to Port Townsend for trial, but was dismissed and allowed to come back to Salt Lake.

Tried to Kill Him.

In the complaints filed against the Chinamen it is alleged by Chin that his countrymen met him several nights ago in Plum alley and threatened to kill him. Nin Hing, it is alleged in the complaint, said: "You want to look out for your life. Yip Sing said: 'I will make trouble for you. I got lots of money and can pay expense. Ung Lung threatened to kill Chin if he did not leave Salt Lake.'"

Chin Chan Chin was seen last night at his home in Plum alley. He said that these Chinamen think he told the police about their games and told them to make a raid on the place. Chin says he knew nothing about it until the day following.

"I went to see the county attorney," Chin said last night, "and he advised me to swear out complaints against the Chinamen who threatened to kill me. I told the attorney what they said and will have them arrested. I lived in Salt Lake twenty-three years and have a right to stay here."

Raid Was Failure.

The raid made by Shannon and Wilson was unsuccessful. They got into the basement of 51 Plum alley through a door in the rear of the place. They were discovered, however, and when they entered the main room all they found was three or four Chinamen smoking leisurely on groovy banks about the room. Policy tickets were scattered about the floor and a "fan-tan" table stood in the middle of the room, but there was no gambling. They were greeted with "san-mo" and "chee" and "saying" in "yin-yin" slang. The detectives searched about the premises but the other rooms were deserted save for a "chink" or two smoking "hop." The Celestials "no sabee" and Shannon and Wilson returned to police headquarters and reported to Chief George A. Sheets that there was no gambling going on in the place.

Some members of the Tai Sing Tong association say that Chin wants to run the Chinese gambling house in Salt Lake but he is unable to regain his standing since he came back from China. It is said that on this account he has been trying to break up the Chinese games, but Chin denies that he had anything to do with it whatsoever.

LECTURE BY KINGSBURY.

President of University Discusses Subject, "Advice to Teachers."

The first lecture of the University of Utah summer school course was delivered to the students by Dr. J. T. Kingsbury yesterday. His subject was "Advice to Teachers," and he commented on the marvelous growth of the state university and the work that its graduates are doing in educational fields. He commented on the crying need for excellent courses and understanding in such subjects as physics, physiology, etc. He demonstrated how these subjects were being applied more and more every day. The lecture was heard by all the students and a good many visitors.

The next lecture will be given by Professor Paul of the L. D. S. university Thursday morning on the "Needs of Punctuation to the Teacher." He will be followed on Friday by Chancellor Andrews of the University of Nebraska, who will deliver a series of three lectures.

EXERCISES AT ST. MARY'S

Graduating Class at Academy Entertains Friends With Fine Programme.

The graduation exercises of Saint Mary's Academy were held yesterday morning at the school and were attended by a large number of the friends of that institution. A fine program, well arranged in every particular, was rendered by the members of the class and a number of the musical students, and the whole closed with a stirring address to the graduates by Father Ryan, and the presentation of medals and diplomas by Rev. Father Dennis Kelly, vicar general, both of whom represented Bishop L. Scanziani.

The graduates were Miss Mary Desmond, Miss Katherine McDonough, Miss Florence O'Neill, in the academic course, Miss Margaret Shields in the commercial course and Miss Martha Plunhof in the conservatory of music. The exercises opened with a chorus from Tannhauser by the vocal class accompanied by piano, harp, and violins. This was followed by a duet from two pianos by the Misses Bixby, Murphy, Stewart and Whalley. Miss Florence O'Neill of the class read a thoughtful essay on "Word Values" showing good work in her English course as well as a thorough study of her subject. Miss Katherine McDonough read a poem, "The Spell of the Mountains," which was a fine effort for a girl of her years, and Miss Mary Desmond closed with an essay on "The Mirror of Character" and a brief valedictory address before the diplomas were given.

The other musical numbers interspersed were three choruses "Kentucky Babe," "The Owl and the Pussycat," and "Waves of the Danube" by the vocal students, "The Merry Fiddlers" by the orchestra of violins, cellos, and harps; a piano solo by Miss Nellie Mahan, and vocal solos by Miss Nellie Mahan and Miss Florence O'Neill. Little Miss Humphrey with her violin, "Veniavski's" "Polish Dance."

Most of the girls left during the day for the summer and will spend their vacation away from the city.

MAY TALK WITH THE EAST

Bell Telephone Company Will Make Connections Between Salt Lake and Atlantic Seaboard.

The Rocky Mountain Bell Telephone company of this city has acquired the Lewiston, Mont., Telephone company, which operates 300 miles of line between Great Falls and Lewiston. It has been connected with the Bell system. This is one of the extensions which the company is making in the western cities. When all the company's plans are carried out it will be possible to talk direct with the cities on the Atlantic seaboard. The cost of connecting up this long gap will amount to $5,000,000. Two routes will probably be taken, one along the Union Pacific and the other on the line of the Santa Fe railroad. Experiments are being made to increase the efficiency of the present instruments with a view to this transcontinental business.

REAL ESTATE INACTIVE

Dealers, However, Claim That Business Is Good and There Are

The quiet which has prevailed for the past two weeks in the real estate market still continues. Few sales are being recorded, though all dealers claim that business is still exceptionally good. Most of the transactions noted are in small home properties, which at least indicates a healthy condition.

A five-room brick cottage on F street, between Seventh and Eighth streets, was sold yesterday through the Home Trust & Savings company by Mary D. MacCord to Priscilla A. Claridge. The price paid was $2,250.

There is a good strong local market in all lines but there are few fresh features. The new Texas watermelons are having a great sale. Texas tomatoes are here in good quantity and are selling at 20 cents a pound. Lemons are 30 cents a dozen and there are some very nice grape fruit for 10 cents each. Other varieties of fruit remain the same.

Sturgeon was the only thing new yesterday in the fish markets. This sold at 17 1/2 cents per pound. Poultry is rather scarce, Utah springs selling at 30 cents a pound.

TO EXHIBIT UTAH PRODUCTS

Joint Associations Now in Fair Way to Provide a Permanent

It is probable that there will soon be a permanent exhibit of Utah products which Salt Lake may be proud to show to visitors. This is to be housed in a home of its own. The committee of the three local associations having the matter in hand will, it is understood, have three propositions for a building which will be laid before the associations. There will be no difficulty about stocking such an exhibit, as Horace Ensign, secretary of the Deseret Agricultural & Manufacturing association, already has material on hand to make a creditable exhibit.
